

UNDERGROUND CITY, GUANGZHOU

Underground City, Guangzhou, China

Project period

2005 - 2010

Construction cost

300 M € approx.

Services provided

Invited international competition, 1st prize, overall planning

Technical details

The planning scope of the project covers an area of 140 ha, located in the densely built-up centre of Zhujian New Town in Guangzhou. In this urban environment the traffic centres, underground city and landscape park had to be interconnected on several levels. To meet this objective, a convincing overall concept for the uses retail trade, leisure, events and traffic was developed.